CALL HAS THEN POZZED MAY COMPETE WITH SELF FOR BRANCH TROPHY CUP

Member of Both Country Club and Hermitage Clubs Will Try to Win Each Golfing Trophy.

Is Douglas Call to win the Branch trophy cup without the formality of an interclub tournament?

Callers at the Hermitage Country Club and the Country Club of Virginia yesterday were asking themselves that question as a result of the excellent play shown by Call in his match with J. S. Jones on the 18th hole.

Call is a member of both clubs, and the Country Club title after brilliant play during the tournament just closed there. He is playing in the Hermitage tournament also, and from his performance yesterday gives promise of annexing the title of that club, too.

In that event, he would be matched with himself in the competition for the Branch trophy.

The possibilities are unusual, and local golfers are wondering just what situation will develop.

Yesterday Call had a narrow escape from defeat at the hands of Jones, during the early stages of their match. Jones led easily and maintained his advantage up until but three holes remain to be played. His standing then was up and three to two.

However, Call rallied, and with excellent judgment and cool strokes managed to take each of the remaining holes.

William Wallace and Judge Peck played a close and hard-fought match yesterday also, Wallace finally winning out.

Although most local golfers believe Douglas Call possibly will win the Hermitage title as well as that of the Country Club, they are not willing to concede he will do so without some brilliant play. But they will have to meet William Wallace and Judge Peck, both unusually proficient players, and either is likely to put him out in the heat of the match.

As a result of the first round of play yesterday, the pairing for the second round, to be played Saturday, are as follows:

Class A—R. H. Seide vs. J. A. Bolvin, E. Wood vs. William Wallace, Peter Winston vs. D. J. Jones.

Class B—Wm. Wilson vs. S. B. Moon, C. H. Dunaway vs. T. Garrett Tabb, T. B. Ham vs. Paul Mayo, R. C. Duval vs. W. C. Lecker.

Class C—H. B. Handy vs. S. B. Love, W. C. Whittier vs. Preston Bell, H. C. Rucker vs. Young Tyree, M. C. B. D. Rucker.

TECHS PREPARE TO MEET AERIAL ATTACK OF CAROLINA

Battle With Azules Brought Surprises, Work of E. H. Roder Praised

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BLACKSBURG, November 1.—With the return of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute from the Agricultural Experiment Station, where Agricultural and Mechanical departments are housed, the football season has been thrown upon the football field, a new chapter in the institution's history.

Saturday's game failed to live up to the big score which was expected. It appears that the V. P. I. coaches had underestimated the strength of the Carolina Azules, and with such telling effect that the Techs were unable to make a single first down. Penetration back of the line was practically nonexistent, and the Techs were practically out of the game.

Younger and Gregory played beautifully, and their positions, each making a touchdown. The Techs were able to make a single first down. Penetration back of the line was practically nonexistent, and the Techs were practically out of the game.

Both E. H. Roder and Lancaster ran the team with good efficiency and performed very creditably. Roder, who was the only man whom the Techs could take out of the game on that account, Hall, the Techs' star tackle, who sustained a pulled tendon in the Yale game, also played well. Roder kept out of the game by injury.

All men who entered the game showed the results of their systematic training, and their excellent condition showed up in the Carolina game. Treake will hardly be in a condition to play against the University of North Carolina Saturday, but Hall and Mack are expected to be back in the game.

The Techs' opponents for next Saturday are looked upon as a very easy proposition, and the game is considered the hardest remaining on the schedule.

Long signal drills will consist of running back and forth, and the Techs will be given the varsity, which took place yesterday when the "A" squad was sent against the "B" Carolina players and formations.

It is reported that Carolina was successful against V. P. I. in fourteen passes attempted. The Techs will be drilled in this style of attack with the hope of being able to meet successfully the aerial bombardment of the visitors.

BRICKLEY WATCHES PRACTICE OF HARVARD REGULARS AND SCRUBS

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., November 1.—The Harvard varsity scrimmaged against the second team for an hour yesterday afternoon, making a touchdown. The scrubs then braced and swept down the field for a touchdown, ploughing through the varsity, and the varsity lost one chance to score when a fumble gave them the ball on the forty-yard line. They could not score on their opponents.

Robinson, quarter back, was still out of play, Murray piloting the team. Charley Brickley, who coached the Freshman drop-kickers, watched the varsity practice today.

ST. PETER'S ACADEMY TEAM PLAYS WESTHAMPTON QUINT

The St. Peter's Boys' Academy will send to Westhampton a strong basketball team to give battle to the Westhampton School quint this afternoon. The quint are composed of youths, but the game should be a battle royal from start to finish. The St. Peter's boys already have won one game this year. It is said they will have the strongest midwest basketball team in the city.

The St. Peter's boys would like to arrange games with any team in the city averaging 115 pounds.

RED SOX TEAM IS SOLD TO H. H. FRAZEE AND HUGH WARD

Announcement Made Last Night—Seek to Retain Curran—Linnell Retires—Frazee Real Sportsman.

(By Associated Press.)

BOSTON, November 1.—The world champion Boston American baseball team was sold last night to Harry H. Frazee, of New York, and Hugh Ward, of Philadelphia. Joseph J. Linnell, of Boston, who owned the team, had been sick less than half an hour before the sale was announced.

Mr. Frazee and Mr. Ward are both identified with theatrical interests, the former being principal owner of the Linnell Theatre, of New York. The latter owns a few details as to the sale of the team, but said:

"When we went into the thing we did not expect a cheap team. We bought the team because we were interested in the club only because they were champions, and would have not considered them otherwise."

Mr. Frazee will take direct charge of the team's affairs, it was said. The Red Sox are at present without a manager. William Curran, who has guided the team for the last three years, is having a long retirement, and the conclusion of the world's series games last month. Mr. Frazee said he would reach the position of manager open for Curran, and hoped that he would consent to lead the team another year.

Negotiations for the transfer have been pending a week. The deal was not signed until last night. The sale includes the franchise, players' contracts, and the real estate at Fenway Park.

Mr. Linnell has owned the team three years, and boys are thinking they have won two world's series. He acquired possession in 1914.

After announcing the sale, Mr. Linnell said he intended to enter the hotel business in this city, where he already has a real estate business.

Mr. Frazee's acquisition of a part ownership in the Red Sox club, probably makes the team a more potent factor in the country. He was born in Peoria, Ill., June 25, 1886, and managed the Chicago Cubs for two years.

Mr. Ward has been connected with the team since 1914. He is a native of Boston, and has been a member of the team since 1914.

Frazee first became prominent in the sporting world when associated with Lawrence Weaver, who owned the Boston Braves. Frazee was a member of the team since 1914.

Although the battle did not add any money to the team, it was a victory for the team, which was staged on April 7, 1915.

He did not expect to make any money, but was so anxious to see Willard win the title that he didn't care about the results. He is a true sportsman.

THURMAN BACK OF LINE JACKETS ARE CONFIDENT

VIRGINIA'S SURE TACKLER
PLAYED AS DEFENSIVE HALF

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., November 1.—While Virginia did not even hope of holding a title as small a score as that made by the Crimson last year—3 to 6—yet the eleven is confident that the points gained by Thurman's tackle Sunday will be less than half of the total registered by the three teams.

The present line with the exception of the wings, is regarded as the equal of last year's, and the back field has been strengthened by the substitution of Kinsolving at left half for Smith, who is now out for the season.

Kinsolving's ability was first recognized in the Vanderbilt game. He proved the most consistent ground runner on the team, and showed up especially well in shooting forward passes.

To-day's work-out was rather mild, for fear of placing more of the regulars on the crippled list. All of the first-string men were in uniform save Quarter Back Ward, who was out of the game with a sprained ankle. Thurman, who is now pulling up to the line, on the defensive, against Harvard. He is a sure tackler and a good runner, and is expected to show marked improvement over his performance at Yale three weeks ago. Thurman's fault has been corrected by individual coaching.

NORTH CAROLINA ELEVEN ROUNDING INTO FINE FORM

Folger and Tennent Relied On in Smashing Offense—Fairbanks Expert Hard Battle Saturday.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., November 1.—The University of North Carolina football team plays its first game on Virginia soil this year when it goes to Blacksburg on Saturday to do battle with the strong team of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute. This is the first time that the team has played on the Blacksburg turf for several years, and it is impossible to compare the team with the team of the Blacksburg team.
